

Photography & Film Policy

In the case of photography/film requests by clients at MARIN premises

MARIN is a provider of advanced hydrodynamic and nautical expertise to the international maritime industry and governments. MARIN is willing to share its research and vision with third parties.

For safety & security reasons and to avoid misinterpretation MARIN strictly pursues the following instructions and restrictions.

1. Any visitor of MARIN (including clients, invitees, contractors or third parties) is bound to the MARIN Safety and Security regulations.
2. Work conducted at MARIN is confidential, therefore it is not permitted to photograph or film any activity on the MARIN premises.
3. MARIN can provide both general and specific pictures and video footage of test facilities, test set-ups, test models or testing activities on request of clients.
4. MARIN is willing to participate in project related (live) interviews. Such requests have to be submitted prior to the visit. MARIN requires inspection of interview questions allowing time for preparations.
5. On request, clients may be permitted to photograph or film their own project conducted by MARIN, always under guidance of a MARIN employee. Such requests have to be submitted prior to the visit.
6. Such permission is strictly limited to the test facility, test set-up, model testing or simulations related to that specific project. It is strictly forbidden to photograph or film any other test facility, test set-up, equipment, sensor systems, documents or any other MARIN property.
7. The execution of the project and any other activity shall not be delayed due to photography or filming.
8. Flashlights are not permitted in the test facilities as these interfere with measurement equipment.
9. If MARIN employees or other persons are covered by photography or filming, explicit approval in writing of each individual person is required by Dutch law.
10. MARIN can require to end photography or filming at all times.
11. Before leaving the MARIN premises on the day of filming, at MARIN's request images and video footage have to be shown to MARIN and have to be deleted if so required.
12. Please note that before any presentation to third parties or the public, the final images and video footage have to be submitted to MARIN for approval and release.
13. Images supplied by MARIN may only be used for the mutually agreed productions and duration:
